Imagine a world where everyone knows everything about everybody. Where what a person 'feels' and 'truly believes' is protected under the law, while what is rational, even provable, is condemned as heresy. A world where to question ignorance and intolerance is to commit a Crime against Faith.

I'm a fan of Ben Elton, having read quite a few of his books, but I looked at the blurb on Blind Faith and it struck me as very '1984' ish in the storyline. Should I still give it a chance?
